April 2011: Another Great Day

When your UHCL celebrates, the celebration goes beyond physical boundaries to include the surrounding community. The mutuality in relationships that UHCL holds as a community-minded, partnership-oriented university is important. When UHCL hosts celebrations, more times than not, the events are actually co-celebrations with others. A perfect example would be the upcoming (co)celebration of a community educational legend, former Clear Creek ISD superintendent and UHCL distinguished alumna: "Another Great Day in CCISD: May 24, 2011—Celebrating Sandra Mossman."

Though a major point of the event will be to announce a new endowment established at UHCL in her honor to support the Educational Leadership program at the university, we believe that as this community's university, such events belong to many. So, we will be honoring a legend, while celebrating education in the community and recognizing the importance of leadership, all the while valuing a good hug. The event will do all those things in a format that shows this community's appreciation for education, for Sandra Mossman and for each other. Laughter and hugs will abound. It couldn't happen any other way.

I can't give away the details of the event, but I can tell you that it will be short on formal program, and long on smiles, hugs, appreciation, respect and affection from our alumni, community and friends who celebrate Sandra at this event, and for them, too.

Watch the UHCL website for more details as we get closer to the event. If you want to make a donation to the endowment—whether because Sandra Mossman was your superintendent or friend, or because UHCL is your university—go to the gift page and specify that your contribution go to the Sandra Mossman Endowment.
