

Abstract

A novel three-dimensional nanostructured open-channel metal-organic framework polymer with inclusion of a polyiodide cluster has been synthesized via an oxidation mechanism under hydrothermal conditions.