

In 1930, construction began on a new swing bridge to replace the hand-cranked ferry which connected Seabrook and Kemah over Clear Creek.