

"MOTHER'S THIRTY - FIFTH CONVENTION —

Watching the American Legion parade on stretcher this year, 80-year-old "Mother" W. W. Turner, Webster, keeps her record of never having missed a state convention. A daughter of Gen. H. K. Harrison, a West Point graduate on Lee's staff during the Civil War, "Mother" Turner received a special invitation from the Legion to attend the state convention. Her late husband, a jeweler, had become a legionnaire after World War I.
