

BAY AREA HOUSTON COMMUNITY COLLEGE FACULTY ART EXHIBITION I

During the 2007 Fall Semester The Art Gallery will showcase work by art faculty from Bay Area Houston community colleges through two separate exhibitions. The current exhibition features Lee College, Galveston College, College of the Mainland, Brazosport College, and Alvin Community College. The second exhibition will include the three colleges of the San Jacinto College System.

These exhibitions represent our continued involvement with area community college art departments. In addition to art exhibitions our art faculty and students have jointly participated in various workshops and lectures. It has been my good fortune to work with many outstanding department heads, instructors and students over the past thirty-two years and to highlight the talent of these art instructors. A number of these artists are represented by prestigious galleries and have extensive résumés.

My appreciation goes to Karen Fiscus, Assistant Gallery Director, for the installation of this exhibition.
