

Abstract

An oxidation reaction route under hydrothermal conditions afforded a novel mixed-valent-copper coordination polymer with unprecedented mutual-face-insertion layered open=framework displaying graphite-like properties.