Ritual Vessels Ceramic Sculpture

The works in this exhibition are grounded in the history of human ritual, those activities developed and pursued in an attempt to understand, remind, and affirm those ethereal realms of physical existence which we cannot know or fully understand, but to which a measure of logic must be assigned.

Within these forms, I have attempted to integrate their intended utilitarian function with visual and tactile information regarding the history of our collective human endeavor to understand and respond to life's greater mysteries, a record of the thermal forces within the firing process, and the eroding forces of nature.
