

SKYLAB SERIES
OMSF MANAGEMENT REVIEWS

The Office of Manned Space Flight at NASA Headquarters is responsible for coordinating the efforts of all NASA field centers and their contractors. As a program office, the OMSF reported to the Associate Administrator, NASA's third ranking official. The OMSF had the largest budget and the greatest public attention of the three program offices that included the Office of Advanced Research and Technology and the Office of Space Science and Applications. This subseries contains agenda, meeting minutes and presentation material of the OMSF Management Council and Executive that met monthly. The documents are filed chronologically and span the years 1968 through 1973.
